Made an AI that uses the requests module to send a request to the AliExpress website to get the 3 most sold products in the week. It then uses the BeautifulSoup module to parse the HTML code and extract the data for these products. The extracted data is stored in a pandas DataFrame, and the prices are increased by 20%. The code then uses the EtsyAPI module to relist the 3 most sold products on Etsy with the updated prices. Finally, the code uses the EtsyAPI again to get the orders from Etsy, and loops through these orders to buy each item on AliExpress. An automatic reseller bot. Made an automatically growing social media account on Instagram that follows people commenting a specific hashtag and stops following them after a week, it also comments on posts with such hashtags. With this bot I can replace the role of account manager in my company.
